A negro man named Feyton Cox, had a narrow escape from death yesterday

THE LITTLE SICKNESSES

Which Grow Into Big Ones,

A little cold in the head is a trifle, but if neglected and it hangs on from week to week and gets into the throat and lungs it is no longer a trifle. It is then no longer a slight cold but the beginning of chronic catarrh.

Do not make the mistake of thinking you have no catarrh because the head and nose appear to be clear. If there is cough, tickling in the throat, hoarseness or a sense of oppression in the chest you have throat and bronchial catarrh. If the appe tite is poor, nausea, gagging and dis gust for food, especially in the morning, you have catarrh of the stomach.

The surest and safest treatment for very form of catarrh is an internal remedy which acts especially on the blood and mucous membranes.

JENKINS SYSTEM FOR MAIN STREET

Committee Directs Attorney and Engineer to Prepare an Ordinance.

VIEWS OF COLONEL CUTSHAW.

He Urges That No Company Be Named and That the Burden of Responsibility Be Not Placed Upon The City.

The Council Committee on Streets yesterday afternoon directed the City Engineer and City, Attorney to prepare and report to the committee as soon as practicable an ordinance requiring the Richmond Passenger and Power Co. to put down what is known as the Jenkins underground trolley system on Main Street, from Twenty-eighth Street to Lombardy Street. The question was considered at a called meeting, those present being: Sub-Chairman Pollock and Messrs. Bahen, King, Peters, Glenn, and Woody.

After the call for the session had been ead, setting forth the object of the meet ing to be the hearing of the report of the City Engineer as to the underground trol-ley matter, Colonel Cutshaw's report was able to learn.

ead. It was as follows: SYSTEM NOT NOW IN USE. "A report of your sub-committee was referred to me to report as to the practicability of the Jenkins underground trolley system. In looking up information about the several underground systems in use. I do not find the Jenkins system in use anywhere. A system similar to the Jenkins system, known as the Bentley-Knight system, was tried in Cleveland. O. Knight system, was tried in Cleveland, O. and in New York some years ago, but was considered experimental and is not now in use anywhere that I have been able to learn.

"I would suggest that you leave to the railway companies, under proper restrictions, the question of which system they may use, if it is decided to have an underground system used in Richmond, and if they desire to use the Jenkins system, to permit a trial of it for a limited time, subject to the final approval of your committee, or removal from the streets."

TO PREPARE AN ORDINANCE.

Mr. Woody moved that the City At-torney and City Engineer be directed to prepare an ordinance, to be reported back to the committee, providing for the establishment upon the streets of the city of the Jenkins underground system for the trolley wires. Mr. King said he was in favor of putting the trolley wires underground without specifying what system should be used.

Representing the Jenkins company, Mr. S.L. Kelley said that the matter of whether or not the Jenkins system should be put down rested between the Richmond Passenger and Power Co. and the Jenkins Company. The Passenger and Power Co., lie declared, had never said it did not want to use an underground system, or that it was unwilling to adopt or experiment with the Jenkins system. He thought the committee might well put the Jenkins system in the ordinance and change it later, if necessary. Colonel Cutshaw was heard on the subject. He said it seemed to him that the committee should not attempt to say what system should be used, for the reason that if the city were to specify any system it would be responsible for the success of that success of that system. THE MOTION CHANGED.

Attention was called to the fact that the motion of Mr. Woody provided that the trolley wires of all the lines in the city should go underground. The Marshall Ward member then changed his motion so as to direct the City Attorney and City Engineer to prepare an ordinance requiring the Jenkins underground system on the Main Street line of the Richmond Passenger and Power Co. from Twenty-eighth to Lombardy Street. eighth to Lombardy Street.

Mr. King offered an amendment striking out the Jenkins system, and simply requiring an underground system. The amendment was rejected and the motion of Mr. Woody was adopted.

Fat is undesirable; it clogs and retards the action of the muscles, interferes with the healthy action of the heart and lungs and when very excessive, predis-poses to fatty degeneration of vital organs, to say nothing of the discomfort resulting from too much adipose tissue Common sense would suggest that if one wishes to become fleshy and plump the thing most næded would be flesh forming food-that is, albuminous foods like eggs, beef, catmeal, etc.

The kinds of food which make flesh are the foods we have on our tables every day; but the trouble is that our stomachs, from weakness or derangement of some kind do not promptly and properly digest it. Really, the principal reason so many people remain thin is because their stomachs do not properly and completely di-gest and assimilate the flesh forming beefsteak and eggs we eat every

There are thousands of such people, and they are really dyspeptics, although they may not suffer any particular pain or inconvenience from their stomachs.

If such persons and all thin people would take after their meals some simple and natural digestive, like Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, the food would be quickly digested and the proper degree of plumpness very soon results, because these tablets are prepared exactly for that purpose. They digest every variety of flesh forming food, which is the real reason why they so quickly build up and strengthen thin, dyspeptic men and women.

Stuart's Dyspepsit Tablets cure every form of indigestion on this common sense plan, that they thoroughly digest the food promptly, giving strength to every nerve and organ in the body, and the weakened stomach a chance to rest and recover its natural vigor. The vagrant's name was Dennis, but he was as slow to accept adverse circumstances as a titled count, and when the Great Dispenser, with an air of mercy and benevolence, told Dennis in his blandest tones to get out of town at once or he would have to send him to the or he would have to send him to the rcck-pile, the vagrant shook a forefinger over the desk as long as a trolley pole and declared that it might be the Great Dispenser's law under which he was driv-en from the city, but that there was a higher law than his which demanded that the weary stranger should be succored and not persecuted. He then regaled the Great Dispenser

The growing tendency of every negro boy to carry a pistol is a fearful evil, but this is the first example of the thirteen-year-old class. The father of the boy plead to be allowed to whip him instead of sending him to the Reformatory, but the Great Dispenser declared that shooting at people in the public streets was an offence too serious for so light a punishfence too serious for so light a punishment, and that being too young to send to jail, he would place him in the Reformatory for three years, and it was so ordered. Bernard Brown and Sam Brown, small colroed boys, were charged with stealing a rooster guinea from Eliza Jeter. A rooster guinea was a new species to the Great Dispenser, who had been brought up with the idea that ull guineas hollered petrack and laid three-cornered eggs, but on reflection he declared if there were guinea tiens, there must be rooster guineas too.
